The Flight of Eugenie—Bishop McIlvaine's Account.

The following account of the flight of the Empress of France from Paris, when the population rose and threw off the yoke of her husband, was given lately by Bishop McIlvaine, at a meeting called by the students of Kenyon College, in Gambier, Ohio. It resembles in most particulars an account which has already been published, but the incidents related are given with such striking particularity, and their authenticity, coming from such source—the Bishop has received them from one who aided the flight of Eugenie—that our readers will be interested in its perusal. We copy it from the Cleveland Herald:

"It seems the safety of the Empress had been assured to her by General Trochu, who had solemnly promised to inform her of the approach of danger. For some unexplained reason she failed to do so, and when on Sunday the mob began to assemble about the Tuileries, three of her friends, Prince Metternich, the Spanish Ambassador and M. Lesseps, formed a plan for her escape, and went to her rescue. M. Lesseps stood outside and harangued the mob for the purpose of detaining them, while the two other gentlemen went in search of the Empress. They found her partaking of a very frugal lunch with one of her ladies, and her fears could not be aroused. Seeing it impossible to persuade her, the two gentlemen used force to remove her. At this she consented to make a slight preparation, and without at all changing her dress (for the mob had already entered the Palace), catching up a small leather reticule, she put into it two pocket-handkerchiefs, and two books, the New Testament and a prayer book. On her head she put a riding hat, and then by that time thoroughly aroused, she fled through the Palace; through long corridors, down up flights of stairs, through chamber and salon, a long walk before she came down to the Rue Rivoli, on which side of the Palace the mob had not collected. Here a cab awaited her.

She, with the lady in attendance, was put into it. "Now," said the friends, "we must leave you; two well known, our attendance would bring destruction upon you! Make good speed! Yes, good speed, for she heard the cries of the furious mob, and as she was entering the cab a little boy exclaimed, 'There is the Empress,' and she thought all was lost; but it proved that there was no one there to take notice, and so the two ladies drove off. Soon they came into the midst of the excited crowd, and the lady accompanying her, queen of Alexandria and vicinity that I will keep constantly on hand a full and complete assortment of all articles usually found in a first class drug store.

Particular attention will be paid to the compounding of prescriptions day and night.

who were risking nearly all they possessed in her cause.

Their plan was now to get her across the Channel to the Isle of Wight, and thence to England. There were but two conveyances in the harbor—both private yachts—and only one able to get out to sea. The owner of that one flatly refused to take the ladies over, but at last, after the identity of the ladies had been made known and much persuasion used, he consented, and Mr. W—and the two ladies, with the reticule containing two pocket-handkerchiefs, set out the day after their arrival in the little town on their voyage to England.

This is a journey usually made in a few hours; but a terrible storm arising, it was prolonged to twenty-seven. The same night and in the same waters the Captain was killed. But although the gentleman in command lost all control of himself and ship, they weathered the storm.

During this time Eugenie showed the most remarkable self-possession, and evidently looked upon death as a relief from her woes. But this was not to be, and after a passage fraught with the most imminent danger she was landed on the Isle of Wight, to find on English ground that asylum which had been sought by so many fugitives before her. And to add to her relief, her son, of whose whereabouts she knew nothing, was found to be in Hastings, not far from her.

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with laxity. There is a general feeling of heaviness, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved. Cure the liver with ELEGANT HAIR adds a charm to the plainest face; but when faded, features become disagreeable, lose their comeliness, and the whole expression is that of advancing age. This being a fact, it is not surprising that even injurious articles should have been prepared to supply the millions who wish to avoid premature gray hair. Under these circumstances it will scarcely be wondered at that NATTAN'S CRYSTAL DISCOVERY should have met with such extraordinary success.

It is the only preparation furnishing a safe and reliable restorer for the hair; absolutely free from all poisonous and deleterious matter and without sediment, and thousands above thousands have availed themselves of it, not simply because it restores the color of the hair, but because it supplies nourishment. It feeds the roots of the hair, so that where decayed it becomes vigorous and healthy again. From all sections of the country orders and testimonials are received daily, speaking in the highest terms of its quality as the only preparation that over gave entire satisfaction. Those who have used CRYSTAL DISCOVERY will not use any thing else; but to those who have not tried this excellent article it is recommended that when they are again in want of something of the kind to give it a trial; you will be more than pleased; you will be delighted with it, and will never again be without it. Don't let your druggist, if he has not got CRYSTAL DISCOVERY persuade you to buy something else, or you will be disappointed; rather go where you can get it put up in large bottles, containing half as much more as any other in market and, consequently, much the cheapest. Price one dollar. For sale by W. A. FIELD & HALL, and druggists generally.
